FONT LICENCE CONTROL – FOREVER

Introducing the complete font licence management solution

fontwise™ from Monotype

Can you identify with this?

- ⑥ A lot of people don't understand font licensing and up to now the process has seemed too daunting. Monotype is helping to make this process smoother.

Simon Twigger, Senior Project Manager, IPC Media plc.

Keeping track of font software licences is a difficult task. Fontwise™ is a futureproof solution that gives you control without losing creative flexibility where your company needs it.

Fontwise™ is a unique service designed to keep you informed and your company legal.

Four questions for you...

- Do you know how many fonts you have in your organisation?
- Do you know their exact location per machine and whether they need a licence?
- Do you know if the fonts that need licences are correctly licensed?
- Do you know how to keep track of this forever?

If you answered no to any of these questions your company could be operating illegally.

Now it's easy to bring your font software under control.

Fontwise™ from Monotype can help you...

- Reduce costs by ensuring that your company is correctly licensed and not over-licensed.
- Discover font software that you didn't know existed!
- Keep track of fonts installed and in use to help determine licensing requirements.
- Give your creative teams easy access to centralised selection and purchase of fonts saving time, money and maintaining control.
- Provide instant visibility to users of available or designated fonts by workgroup.
- Reduce font related support issues.
- Monitor font licences in use and delete fonts that are unauthorised, helping to control corporate identity.
- Reduce the company's liability and hidden costs associated with undiscovered fonts.
- Move closer towards total software licensing compliance.
- Reduce the network overhead of unknown and unwanted fonts.

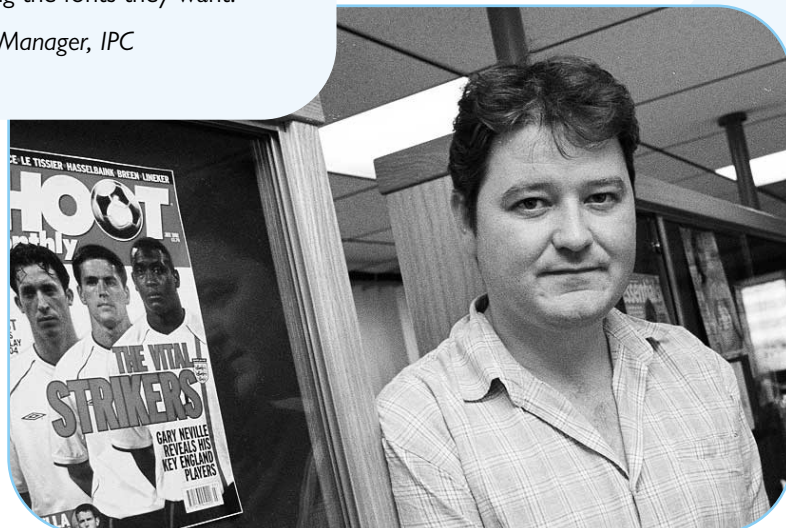

Our credentials

Monotype, a world leader in font design, technology and development, has designed typefaces for household names such as Barclays, British Airways and Dyson. We understand the way fonts are used in the creative world and have been working closely with our customers – some of the world's leading publishing houses – to develop Fontwise. So you can have every confidence that it has a pedigree you can relate to.

Clear benefits – IPC Media is one of the major organisations using Fontwise™

- ⑥ The initial audit has helped us reduce our licensing commitment by over 200 licences accurately and this has helped to centralise purchasing. Two Help Desk staff now use the database as a management tool, saving time. Workflow is definitely more centralised but that hasn't negated any independence that the art directors have in choosing the fonts they want.

Take control with Fontwise™

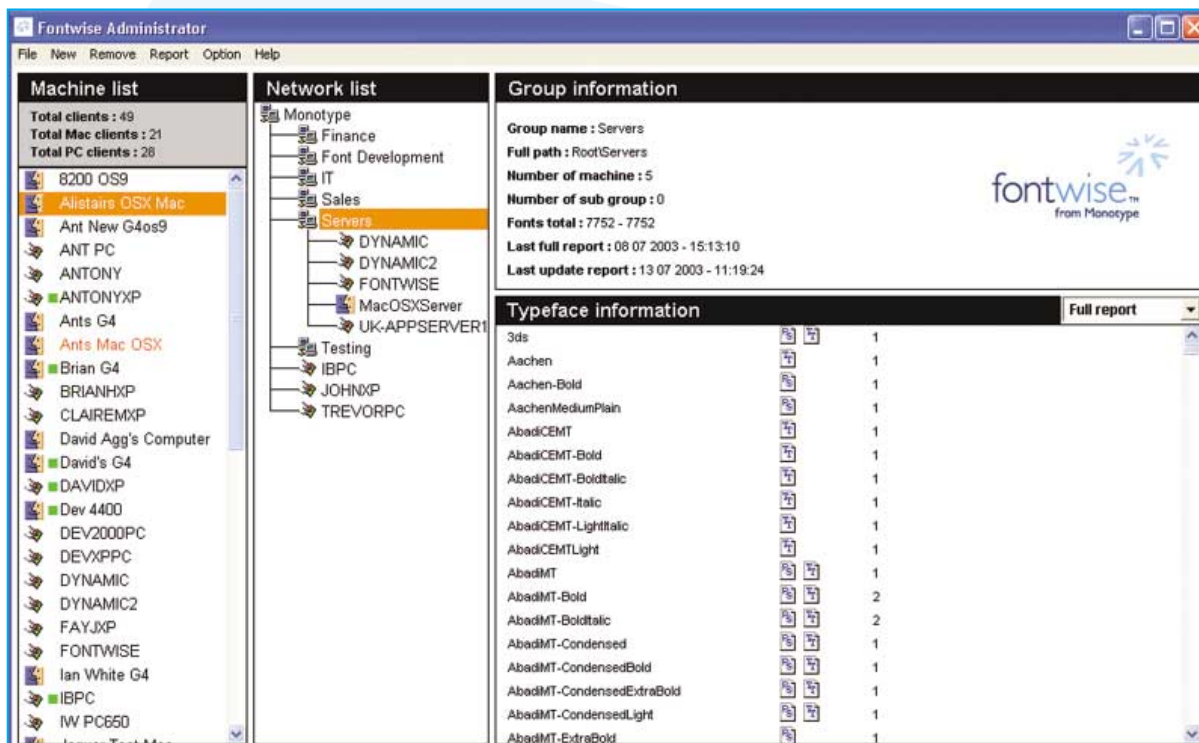

the comprehensive solution for font auditing and licence management from font expert Monotype.

Employing a cross-platform client-server architecture

- Fontwise™ discovers and lists all fonts on each computer in your company
- Fontwise™ reconciles the fonts that you have with your current font licences
- Fontwise™ creates a customised database about your company's font licences
- Fontwise™ provides controlled access to any available font through one centralised source and

- As you continue to update your font licences Fontwise™ maintains your database dynamically

Why is Fontwise™ different from other software management tools?

Many software discovery tools claim to be able to generate a list of your font software. But what next? To understand your licensing position you need to reconcile this list against all font licences purchased to find out your legal status.

In most cases this means sifting through stacks of paper licences only to find your records are not comprehensive. This daunting prospect is often too time consuming, so a thorough audit is never accomplished. Fontwise can help.

The Fontwise™ service checks through all your licensing data and can even gather missing data for you. A complete status report of your fonts versus your licences is provided which you can use to determine the fonts that you want to keep. Next, where necessary, Monotype supplies a correct licence and builds your customised Fontwise database containing your organisation's new font list and licence record. Going forward, your authorised users can licence any font as they need it through the Fontwise centralised database and purchasing system.

Dynamic database control

Now you have a complete font licensing database that can be monitored dynamically. So at a glance you know what fonts your staff are using and critically, that you're always correctly licensed.

What's more, your font specifiers can use the database as a centralised font resource, eliminating ad-hoc licensing and reducing system maintenance due to corrupt or infected files being loaded from unauthorised sources.

The Fontwise™ database can also link online to Monotype to try out fonts prior to purchase. Each time a font is acquired this way your licensing position is automatically updated on the database. So your licensing position is always clear – you'll never have to audit your fonts again!

Fontwise™ provides a future proof solution you can rely on to end the chaos often surrounding font licensing.
